AirPocket on track for launch Q3 – short demonstration video release

Digital payments company Digital CC Limited (trading as digitalBTC, ASX:DCC and “the Company”) is pleased to provide a brief video demonstrating its disruptive remittance product, AirPocket.

The video provides an overview of the products functionality, an introduction to the App’s interface, how it looks visually and how users will use the App in practice.

The Company announced on the 16 June 2015 that it had commenced internal beta testing of the App’s functionality on the Apple iOS platform and expects to complete this phase of testing in Q3 2015.

Following the completion of internal beta testing, which is progressing well and currently in the final stages of security and transaction testing the Company will soon be ready to onboard external users in selected regions for the next phase of testing.
